There are no dangers.

Bedulla Democrat.

There are a lot of timid people in this country who are terribly afraid that the Catholic church is going to get up before breakfast some morning while everybody else is asleep and overturn the government.

These unhappy parties have dreamed or heard that every Catholic church is an arsenal filled with Winchester rifles and dynamite bombs, and that once every two weeks able bodied Catholics will meet at the dead hour of midnight and go through the manual of arms, getting ready for the final day of carnage.

These silly stories are actually told by public speakers and intelligent people are asked to believe them.

Sensible men are asked to believe that the majority must in business affairs and in a social way every day of their lives, actually practice every two weeks getting ready to murder their neighbors.

And why, pray, should our Catholic neighbors be so anxious for bloodshed and revolution? They are surely sensible enough to know that for a single church to take up arms against all other churches would be the stupidest sort of folly.

But are our Catholic friends so blood thirsty as to seek to murder everybody? We need not say every day; they are peaceable, law abiding, honest and industrious, and, as a rule, are a credit to the world's honors.

They pay their taxes like everybody else and are always ready to help public improvements.

When war was in the land and men and women were arrayed against each other in deadly conflict three Catholics divided on the issue just as the protestants did; some were the blue and some the gray; some marched under the stars and stripes and some under the stars and bars. Then why should they all at this late day begin to conspire against the nation?

Nothing has occurred to drive them into rebellion. Thank God, in this country the Catholic and the Protestant, the Jew and the Gentile enjoy equal rights and equal privileges, and neither does or can oppress the other.

But just suppose people were to believe the insane statement that are made by these fanatics, how long would it be before rapine and carnage would be the order of the day.

It is a shame and a reproach to free speech that wholesale slanders should be uttered in public.

Granted that there are bad Catholics. Are there not bad Protestants as well? Granted that there are this way of thinking in the Catholic church. Are there not equally as abandoned criminals in the Protestant churches?

The truth is that a man is honest or dishonest, good or bad, law abiding or vicious of himself and from his own evil nature, and not because he belongs to a particular church.

Each and every church is powerful for good in proportion to the efforts of its members to help each other and humanity in general to a higher plane, to nobler lives and nobler aspirations.

The best citizens and the best Christians are those who love their neighbors and who show to others a charity and tolerance they ask for themselves. And they don't all belong to the church, either.

There is no church that is going to destroy this government; on the other hand all churches strengthen it. When armed mobs march forth to slay innocent men in the street they will not come from the churches nor will they be composed of earnest church members, but they will be composed of those who have thrown off all restraint and ignored the teachings of all the churches.

There is no danger to this country in churches, Protestant or Catholic.

GEORGE VANDERBILT has a dark spot on the fair field of his 9,000 acres surrounding his palace in North Carolina, and he can't get rid of it. Near the center of the tract is an old negro named Jerry Collins, who owns 14 acres that he won't sell at any price. He now jocularly remarks that the greatest desire of his life has been good neighbors, and, as he is now Mr. Vanderbilt's nearest neighbor, he declines to sell or to move into a less aristocratic neighborhood. Mr. Vanderbilt has had the negro's lot fenced in, but of course he is compelled to allow him an outlet. And so the matter rests for the present.

A Good thing to Keep on Hand.

From the Troy (Kansas) Chief.

Some years ago we were very much subject to severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any of the symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhea, etc., we become scared. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy the very thing to straighten one out in such cases, and always keep it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know what is a good thing to keep handy in the house. For sale by all Drug-dists.

Salisbury scoldings.

BY A. W. JOHNSON.

Received too late for last week.

Mrs. Berry, of Texas, is visiting the family of her father, John Rains.

Miss Ida Rains, of Kansas City, is visiting her father's family near this place.

Large bill boards have been put up for Sell Bros. circus, which will be here Sept. 15th.

The insurance adjusters are here adjusting the loss of the Mill and Elevator Co.

Watermelons are becoming plentiful and even newspaper men are beginning to eat them.

Salisbury has several lady bicycle riders and it is a pretty sight to see them gracefully skimming over the streets.

C. H. Sweeney has been trying the Dr. Amick treatment for consumption, but thus far has not been benefited.

The meeting held by elder Carter, at the Christian church, closed Wednesday night with forty additions to the church.

Lon Perkins, a typo in the P. S. office, fell from a trapeze one day last week and fractured his wrist. Lon makes a good devil but a poor showman.

Prof. Coleman and family have taken up their residence in our midst and occupy the Pat Foster property. We gladly welcome them to our midst.

A game of ball between second nines from Huntsville and Salisbury was played here Wednesday, resulting in favor of the home team. A second game will be played here next Tuesday between the same nines. The boys have their metal up and will play for blood.

A case of unusual interest was tried in Judge Newbold's court Wednesday, coming from Wayland township, on a charge of venue. Dr. Fansler was charged with selling whisky to J. E. Snoddy without having a written prescription. The testimony showed that Fansler wrote the prescription himself and filled it at his own drug store, but the state claimed that this constituted no defense. The court after hearing the law and argument thereon, allowed the prescription to be read to the jury, and this broke the backbone of the state's case. The jury failed to agree and a majority verdict resulted in the acquittal of the defendant. The second case was then nolle prossed. Capt. J. C. Wallace and W. H. Bradley appeared for the state and J. C. Crawley and the writer for the defense. Much feeling has been stirred up around the Hill over the matter and many of her citizens were in attendance.

MONEY TO YOU

To My Subscribers:—

A comparison of the COURIER with other esteemed contemporaries in Chariton county will convince you that as a news paper the COURIER hasn't a superior and perhaps not an equal in this county.

I am proud of the COURIER and I believe justly so.

It is my earnest desire to extend my circulation to double its present size, and this I can do if my patrons will help me.

The only trouble I find in placing the COURIER in almost every household in Chariton county is that the subscription price is $1.50 a year.

In order to overcome this obstacle I make this proposition to my subscribers:

Each subscriber who will get me one or more new subscribers at $1 a year, I will send the COURIER to for $1 instead of $1.50.

The more subscribers you get, the merrier—for the editor. Each subscriber who will send me five or more new subscribers I will send the COURIER to for one year FREE.

The COURIER is an all home-print, 6-column, 8-page paper and I cannot afford to furnish it at $1 unless I can largely increase my present circulation.

In case your subscription does not expire for some months, by sending in the name of one new subscriber accompanied by $1 in cash you will get the benefit of the $1 rate.

Of course all who do not avail themselves of this liberal offer will be expected to pay $1.50 a year.

It remains entirely with you as to whether you pay $1 or $1.50 a year for the COURIER. A great many of my patrons are even glad to get the COURIER and pay $1.50, but by doubling my circulation I can afford to send it for $1 a year, and make just as much money as I do now at $1.50.

Will you help me to increase my circulation, and by so doing save money for yourself?

Very truly yours,
C. P. VANDIVER,
Editor and Publisher COURIER.
